7 “DECLARATION OF POLICY

8 “SEC. 220. The Congress hereby declares that the fol-9 lowing provisions of this title are necessary to provide for

I

2 owned or leased by the United States.

3 "RESPONSIBILITY FOR REAL PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

4 "SEC. 221. (a) Except as hereinafter provided in this 5 title, on and after — days after this title takes effect, the 6 Administrator shall have complete authority and responsi-

12 In connection therewith, the Administrator is authorized to

18 cies have complied with the standards, regulations, manuals, 19 and procedures established, prescribed, or issued by him in 20 connection with the management of such real property, and 21 in the event of the failure of any executive agency to comply
22 therewith, the Administrator is authorized to request the 23 President to issue a directive or take such other action as he 24 deems necessary to assure such compliance.

1 “(b) It shall also be the responsibility of the Adminis-
2 trator to develop and establish a long-range policy with a 3 view to accomplishing the following general objectives in 4 connection with the management of public buildings—

5 “(1) the gradual consolidation of the office space
6 occupied by executive agencies in large urban centers
7 into a fewer number of buildings, thereby increasing the 8 ratio of net usable space to gross area, and increasing the 9 flexibility of the assignment of such office space;

10 “(2) the gradual improvement of the quality of the 11 office space occupied by executive agencies, to the extent 12 that such improvement is consistent with economy, in 13 order to improve the morale of Federal employees,
14 reduce the turnover in personnel, and increase the effi-
15 ciency of Government services; and

16 “(3) the relocation of office space occupied by 17 executive agencies from high cost areas to other suitable 18 and less costly areas.

19 "APPROPRIATIONS FOR GENERAL-PURPOSE PUBLIC
20 BUILDINGS

21 "SEC. 222. Hereafter all funds for the operation, mainte-
22 nance, repair, and alteration of all general-purpose public
23 buildings owned or leased by the United States shall be 24 appropriated directly to the General Services Administration
25 and shall be expended under the direction of the Adminis-

1 trator; except that in the case of any such buildings owned
2 or leased by the United States in foreign countries the funds
3 for their operation, maintenance, repair, and alteration shall 4 be appropriated directly to the Department of State and shall 5 be expended under the direction of the Secretary of State.

6 "BUILDINGS OCCUPIED BY THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

7 "SEC. 223. Hereafter the Administrator shall be respon-
8 sible for the management of all buildings occupied in whole
9 or in part by the Post Office Department; except that the 10 Administrator may delegate to the Post Office Department 11 the management of any such buildings whenever in his 12 opinion it is more economical or efficient to do so. All
13 funds for the operation, maintenance, repair and alteration
14 of such buildings shall be appropriated directly to the General
15 Services Administration and shall be expended under the 16 direction of the Administrator.

17 "EXEMPTIONS

18 "SEC. 224. All provisions of this Act or of any other 19 Act of Congress which directly or indirectly exempt any 20 executive agency from the authority of the General Services
21 Administration or the Administrator of General Services
22 relating to real property management are hereby repealed;
23 effective — days after this title takes effect; but the Presi-
24 dent may by Executive order prescribe for any executive

1 agency such specific exemptions from the authority of the 2 General Services Administration or the Administrator of 3 General Services relating to real property management as 4 he deems to be fully justified in the public interest.

5 "REPEALS

6 "SEC. 225. All laws or parts of laws inconsistent with
